

SCHOOL BASED HEALTH CENTERS (SBHC)

School-Based Health Centers (SBHCs) are vital partners in promoting pediatric health and well-being. Located within schools, they provide convenient access to comprehensive healthcare services, including preventive care, mental health support, and health education. By working closely with families, schools, and community providers, SBHCs help address both physical and emotional needs, ensuring students receive timely care without having to miss school. Through this partnership, SBHCs enhance overall student health and academic success.

This module explains how a School-Based Health Center can work with the private pediatric practices. It describes the enrollment process as it relates to parental consent, confidentiality, and the sharing of information. Finally, the module identifies how to access SBHCs in your pediatric practice area, their contact information, and services provided.
